

The library resources (e.g. books, online services and learning spaces) have supported my learning well.

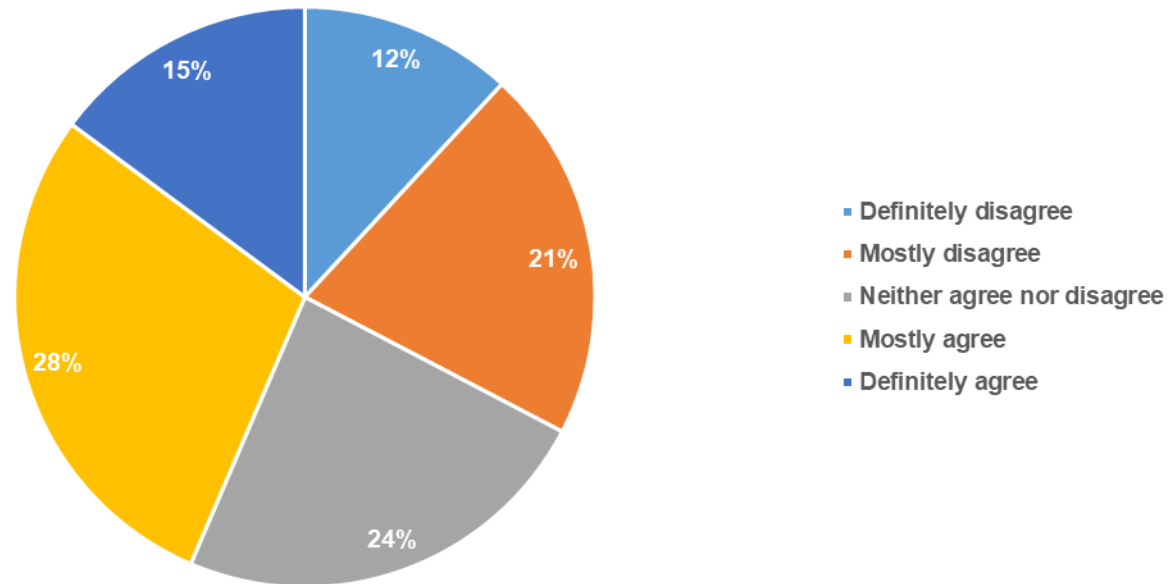

I have been able to access course-specific resources (e.g. equipment, facilities, software, collections) when I needed to.

The Union provides space which is suitable for me to study in.

There is enough space on my campus to undertake group work.

Do you think that the Union should provide more informal study space (e.g. coffee tables, sofas)?
